

In Preparation . . . A look at what is to Come

The Sunday following Pentecost is dedicated to All Saints, both those who are known to us, and those who are known only to God. The Descent of the Holy Spirit makes it possible for us to rise above our fallen state and to attain sainthood, thereby fulfilling God’s directive to “be holy, for I am holy” (Lev. 11:44, 1 Peter 1:16, etc.). Therefore, it is fitting to commemorate All Saints on the first Sunday after Pentecost. This feast may have originated at an early date, perhaps as a celebration of all martyrs, then it was broadened to include all men and women who had borne witness to Christ by their virtuous lives, even if they did not shed their blood for Him.

The hymnology for the feast of All Saints also lists six categories: “Rejoice, assembly of the Apostles, Prophets of the Lord, loyal choirs of the Martyrs, divine Hierarchs, Monastic Fathers, and the Righteous....”

Jokes of the Day

A man lay dying and he began to yell out, "I need a priest, I need a priest!" Another man came along and asked what was wrong. The dying man said, "I need a priest to give me last rites, I'm dying," the man said. "There are no priests around here, but maybe I can help." I'm not a religious person myself, but I have lived next to the Catholic Church my whole life and I hear their ritual all the time. I think that I can say it for you." The dying man said, "Thank You." So the helpful man leaned close to the dying man and in a soft voice repeated the ritual as he has heard it so many times: "B-6, N-33, G-52, I-24, ... Bingo."

Axios! Axios! Axios!

Metropolitan Borys holding the letter of appointment.

Metropolitan Borys Gudziak was born November 24, 1960 to Jaroslawa and Alexander Gudziak in Syracuse, NY. His parents, both Ukrainian Greek Catholics, had come to New York from western Ukraine following WWII. The Gudziaks were the parents of two sons, Borys and Marko. After completing his pre-university studies at Christian Brothers Academy, he graduated from Syracuse University, obtaining a dual degree in philosophy and biology in 1980. He entered the College of Saint Sophia in Rome where, as a student of the Lviv Archeparchy under Cardinal Josyf Slipyj, he attended the Pontifical Urban University. In 1983, he graduated in theology and began doctoral studies in an interdepartmental program of Slavic and Byzantine Cultural History at Harvard University, where he received his Ph.D. in 1992. From October 1994 until July 1995 he attended the Pontifical Oriental Institute.

In 1992, he moved permanently to Lviv, where he founded the Institute of Church History (ISC), becoming its director until October 2002. In 1993 he was appointed chairman of the Commission for the Renewal of the Lviv Theological Academy by Archbishop Myroslav Ivan Lubachivsky. From 1995 until 2000 he served as vice rector of the Lviv Theological Academy, then as rector from 2000 to 2002. In that year, Gudziak became rector of the Ukrainian Catholic University (founded on the basis of the academy), and later its president.

He was ordained on November 26, 1998 in the Cathedral of St. George in Lviv by Bishop Sofron Mudry, O.S.B.M. and incardinated in the Major Archeparchy of Lviv of the Ukrainians. He is the author of over 50 studies on the history of the Church, theological training and on different topics of cultural relevance.

On July 21, 2012, Borys Gudziak was appointed apostolic exarch for the Ukrainian faithful of the Byzantine rite in France, and at the same time appointed Titular Bishop of Carcabia. He was ordained a bishop on August 26, 2012 and installed in a Divine Liturgy on December 2, 2012.

On February 18, 2019, the Vatican Information Service announced that the Holy Father had appointed Most Rev. Borys Gudziak as Archeparch of Philadelphia for Ukrainians and Metropolitan for the Ukrainian Catholic Church in USA. He was installed on June 4, 2019.
