

Eucharist - Is communion
the same in all Christian churches?
The answer to the question is simple. NO! All communion in Christian churches is not the same. Protestant churches have a commemoration service to reenact the Last Supper. The Churches of the first millennium have what is called the real presence, which means that it is NOT a commemoration service.

The Catholic and Orthodox Church have the real presence. During the Divine Liturgy and Mass, the bread and wine become the body and blood of Christ during the Anaphora Prayers pages 145-148 in the blue book. The Bible clearly states, Jesus is literally and wholly present—body and blood, soul and divinity—under the appearances of bread and wine.
Many attack this doctrine as “unbiblical,” but the Bible is forthright in declaring it. One only needs to read - 1 Corinthians 10:16–17, 11:23–29 and, most forcefully, John 6:32–71.
St. Ignatius roundly declares that . . . the bread is the flesh of Jesus, the cup his blood. Clearly he intends this realism to be taken strictly, for he makes it the basis of his argument against those who are in denial of the reality of Christ’s body.
You should never partake of communion in a Protestant church. If you do, you must confess to a priest the sin that you committed in doing so.
We partake of Holy Eucharist or Holy Communion because by this sacrament we unite ourselves to Christ, who makes us sharers in his Body and Blood to form a single body. The principal fruit of receiving the Eucharist in Holy Communion is an intimate union with Christ Jesus. Indeed, the Lord said: "He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him." Life in Christ has its foundation in the Eucharistic banquet: "As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me."

7th Sunday After Pentecost

Romans 15:1-7

Matthew 9:27-35

Troparion (Tone 6)

Angelic powers were upon Your tomb and the guards became like dead men; Mary stood before Your tomb seeking Your most pure body. You captured Hades without being overcome by it. You met the Virgin and granted life. O Lord, risen from the dead, glory to You!

Kondakion

With His life-giving hand Christ our God, the Giver of Life, raised all the dead from the murky abyss and bestowed resurrection upon humanity. He is for all the Savior, the resurrection and the life, and the God of all.

Theotokion

Undaunted patroness of Christians, O steadfast intermediary with the Creator, turn not away from the suppliant voices of sinners, but in your kindness come to help us who cry out to you in faith. Be quick to intercede, make haste to plead, for you are ever the patroness of those who honor you, O Mother of God.

Prokeimen

Save Your people, O Lord, and bless Your inheritance.

Verse Unto You I will cry, O Lord my God, lest You turn from me in silence.

Save Your people, O Lord, and bless Your inheritance.

Alleluia

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Verse He who lives in the aid of the Most High, shall dwell under the protection of the God of Heaven.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Verse He says to the Lord: You are my protector and my refuge, my God, in Whom I hope.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Communion Verse

Praise the Lord from the heavens; praise Him in the highest. Alleluia. (3)

Jokes of the Day

Sometimes women are overly suspicious of their husbands. When Adam stayed out very late for a few nights, Eve became upset. "You're running around with other women," she charged. "You're being unreasonable," Adam responded. "You're the only woman on earth." The quarrel continued until Adam fell asleep, only to be awakened by someone poking him in the chest. It was Eve. "What do you think you're doing?" Adam demanded. "Counting your ribs," said Eve.
