St. Luke and the Icon

Last week, we commemorated the 7th Ecumenical Council which decreed that the Church was able to have holy images displayed. Today, we commemorate St. Luke who wrote one of the Gospels. Whose Gospel is read from the middle of September to middle of December. St. Luke is also said to have written the first icon of the Mother of God. He is shown in many icons of him writing an icon. “Let the grace of Him Who was born of Me and My mercy be with these Icons,” said the All-Pure Virgin after seeing the icons. Saint Luke also painted icons of the First-Ranked Apostles Peter and Paul. Saint Luke’s Gospel was written in the years 62-63 at Rome, under the guidance of the Apostle Paul. In the preliminary verses, Saint Luke precisely sets forth the purpose of his work. He proposes to record, in chronological order, everything known by Christians about Jesus Christ and His teachings. By doing this, he provided a firmer historical basis for Christian teaching . He carefully investigated the facts, and made generous use of the oral tradition of the Church and of what the All-Pure Virgin Mary Herself had told him.

In Saint Luke’s Gospel, the message of the salvation made possible by the Lord Jesus Christ, and the preaching of the Gospel, are of primary importance. Saint Luke also wrote the Acts of the Holy Apostles at Rome around 62-63 A.D.

The Book of Acts, which is a continuation of the four Gospels, speaks about the works and the fruits of the holy Apostles after the Ascension of the Savior. At the center of the narrative is the Council of the holy Apostles at Jerusalem in the year 51, a Church event of great significance, which resulted in the separation of Christianity from Judaism and its independent dissemination into the world (Acts 15:6-29). The theological focus of the Book of Acts is the coming of the Holy Spirit, Who will guide the Church “into all truth” (John 16:13) until the Second Coming of Christ.

Luke 8:5-15

Troparion (Tone 3)

Let the heavens be glad, let the earth rejoice, for the Lord has done a mighty deed with His arm. He trampled death by death. He became the first-born of the dead; He saved us from the abyss of Hades and granted great mercy to the world.

Troparion of St. Luke (Tone 8)

Let us praise in sacred hymns the celebrated Luke herald of the acts of the apostles, brightly shining author of the Good News of Christ, scribe of things unwritten which he wrote for Christ's Church. He is a physician for the feeble, healing nature's ailments and the maladies of souls and he prays unceasingly for all of us.

Kondakion (Tone 3)

Glory be... You arose from the tomb, O compassionate Lord, and led us out from the gates of death. Today Adam exults and Eve rejoices, and the prophets together with the patriarchs unceasingly acclaim the divine might of Your power.

A priest, a rabbit, and a minister walked into a bar. The bartender asked the rabbit, "What'll ya have?" The rabbit replied, "I don't know. I'm only here because of autocorrect."
