Know Your Church . . .

Question: What does the phrase "the doors, the doors ..." refer to during the Divine Liturgy?

Answer: In the ancient Church both the faithful who had entered into the Body of Christ by receiving the Holy Mysteries of Baptism, Chrismation and Eucharist and those who were preparing to enter fully into the Church would attend the early portion of the Divine Liturgy. Those who were preparing to receive the Holy Mysteries were called Catechumens. The Catechumens would stay in the Divine Liturgy until the Litany of the Catechumens. After this Litany (which is no longer included in the current Divine Liturgy since we do not have an active catechumenate) the Catechumens would leave the nave of the church and go into the narthex (often called the vestibule). The remaining portions of the Divine Liturgy were only for those who were fully part of the Church. After the Catechumens had left the Deacon would proclaim the prayer "the doors, the doors in Wisdom be attentive! The doors that are being referred to are between the nave and the narthex."

Troparia

Resurrection Troparion (Tone 4)

When the disciples of the Lord learned from the angel the glorious news of the resurrection and cast off the ancestral condemnation, they proudly told the apostles: "Death has been plundered! Christ our God is risen, granting to the world great mercy."

Troparion of Dormition (Tone 1)

In giving birth you retained your virginity, in falling asleep you did not abandon the world, O Mother of God. You passed into life, for you are the Mother of Life, and by your prayers you delivered our souls from death.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,

My Savior and Deliverer from the grave as God has raised out of bondage the children of earth and shattered the gates of Hades; and as Master, He rose on the third day.

Now and forever and ever. Amen

Kondation of the Dormition (Tone 2)

The tomb and death could not hold the Mother of God, unceasing in her intercession and unfailing hope of patronage, for, as the Mother of Life, she was transferred to life by Him Who had dwelt in her ever-virgin womb.

Prokeimen (Tone 4)

How great are Your works, O Lord; You have made all things in wisdom.

Verse: Bless the Lord, O my soul; O Lord my God, You are exceedingly great.

How great are Your works, O Lord; You have made all things in wisdom.

Alleluia

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Verse: Poise yourself and advance in triumph and reign in the cause of truth, and meekness, and justice.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Verse: You have loved justice and hated iniquity.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

Irmos (Tone 1)

Seeing the pure one's falling asleep, angels marveled in wonder how the Virgin could ascend from earth to heaven. O pure Virgin, in you are conquered the bounds of nature, for childbirth remains virginal and death is betrothed to life. Virgin after childbearing and alive after death, O Mother of God, never cease to save your inheritance.

Joke of the Day

The church service had begun when we noticed a large bat asleep high on the wall out of reach from a broom. Since it was asleep, the ushers decided to wait until the service was over before dealing with it. But the priest got a little loud during his homily and woke up the bat. It began dive-bombing the ladies in the front rows, making them scream! I later joked that every church needs a bat to keep parishioners awake.
